

TIM BARRY MOVES BACK CATALOG TO CHUNKSAAH RECORDS!

Chunksaah Records is proud to announce the re-release of TIM BARRY's "28th & Stonewall," "Manchester" and "Rivanna Junction" albums in all formats (CD, LP and Digital) - May 10, 2011. The CD versions will all be re-issued as digipacks and the LP versions will be on embossed reverse-board with colored vinyl (translation: fancy!!!)

Here's what Chunksaah Records had to say about the re-issues: "Tim Barry has long been a member of our family and we are excited to expand the ways in which we are spreading the good word of music and family worldwide! We will be officially celebrating on Good Friday (aka Friday April 22nd, 2011) at the Asbury Lanes, in our fair city-by-the-sea - Asbury Park, NJ. Who knew that Tim would turn Yankee? haha."

Tim said, "Moving my back catalog of albums from Suburban Home Records to Chunksaah Records was not an easy decision to make, considering the incredible relationship I share with Suburban Home, both personally and as a record label. However, I felt the need to have every aspect of my musical support crew in one place. With this change, my booking agent, publicist, merchandise company, much of my road crew and now record label are all located in the the Great State of New Jersey - the Asbury Park area to be specific."
